

To whom it concerns,

As facilities project manager of the Colorado Historical Society I am issuing a letter of recommendation for Dwight Grimsley of Westwood Carpentry. Dwight was referred to me by a trusted electrical contractor, SJO Electric and since has become my department's preferred general carpenter for our two Denver properties.

I have contracted with Westwood Carpentry Inc. on general carpentry jobs at the Grant Humphreys Mansion, 770 Pennsylvania Street Denver, Colorado and the Byers-Evans House Museum, 1310 Bannock Street Denver, Colorado. Both historic properties are owned and actively used by the Historical Society and held to strict preservation standards.

Contracting with Dwight was efficient as he is quick to complete project paperwork and understand the at times complex state procurement policies. Onsite Dwight kept a clean work space, coordinated work with all onsite facilities users and routinely updated my office on his progress. Afterwards I was very satisfied with the value and quality in Dwight's work completed.

The projects I have completed with Dwight include repairs to hardwood floors, drywall & plaster walls, tile, water mitigation & mold removal, pocket door repairs, general woodwork and painting. At times our scope of work required creative problem solving, historical building element research and coordination with other Historical Society employees. On all accounts I had a very positive work experience with Westwood Carpentry and I would recommend him for any future carpentry jobs.

Sincerely,
